

Project Update: December 2014

I am glad to invite you to take a look at our new database on the internet: <http://habiprot.org.rs/Alciphron> you should expect some improvements over the time, but there is already a simple system to browse and input data. We are greatly thankful to all the people who joined mapping of butterflies this year. You helped us to break the record and gather the most of field observations ever (more than 9000)! Please feel free to take a look at our website, read the news and download promotional materials.
