

Project Update: December 2014

I have posted some photos of our first visit to the Baia do Inferno on our Facebook page: www.facebook.com/lantunacy

Although we already knew that it is not possible to have access to the bay by land, we have decided to go by land to have a holistic view of the bay (please find attached some pictures). Our next visit will be very soon, and we will go by sea and start to collect data. After this I going to write a small text so that you can update the project information on your website.
