

Boscowen Collection

The Boscowen family gave to City Park, a large collection of bromeliad plants. This was housed in a special sheltered area.

Pollinator Garden

The local flowering plants and shrubs here are attractive to pollinators like bees, butterflies and birds. Visit and learn why pollinators are so important.

Joseph Murumbi Peace Memorial Garden

Joseph Murumbi was Kenya's second Vice-President (May 1966-December 1966). His gravesite, and that of his wife, have been restored and turned into a memorial and sculpture garden.

Botanic gardens

More than 998 species of plants and small wildlife have been identified in the park. This is significant and underlines the park's importance as a resource for conservation and of public awareness around biodiversity.

Butterfly exhibit

This is situated in the Boscowen pollinator area and consist of a small netted walk-in butterfly space. It displays the foodplants, caterpillars and free flying adults of different species.

Maze

The tree-hedge maze was designed out of an old quarry and is physically an extensive labyrinth. Its use has long been a very special part of the City Park experience for thousands of users. The maze need restoring.

Bandstand

The famous Bandstand on the Park's central lawn area has been the setting for numerous historic outdoor performances and diplomatic receptions.
