

Project Update: June 2017

I want to inform you that new season of project has started in May 2017 when first field visits were made in Mt Velež and Mt Prenj. Most of other mountains were under snow until beginning of June 2017.

In addition, I would like to inform you that my research was noticed by authorities in Bosnia and Herzegovina so the preliminary project results were part of Management Plan for Protected Landscape "Trebević". The Plan was declared (published) in Official gazette of Canton Sarajevo where the project picture of Martinis snow Vvle was integrated (page 66).

Since this project started, the popularity of small mammal research is growing in Bosnia and Herzegovina so the first project of small mammal monitoring in protected areas of Canton Sarajevo was approved by our Government.

Third information is that I was honoured to be proclaimed as a lead mentor for the mammal group at VII International Biological Camp in Bosnia and Herzegovina in 2017. There, I will share my wonderful experience with other mentors and students.
