

Project Update: August 2016

I attended an international conference on wildlife disease organised by Wildlife Disease Association in New York. I presented our research work as a poster. I enjoyed the poster session due to interactions with a large audience. I analysed only human perception section in our project and I will send this result within few weeks. I would like to request to extend timeframe to submit final report for my project.

Please find the picture of poster presentation in 6th annual International Wildlife Disease Association Conference, July 31-August 5, 2016, Cortland, New York, USA.
