

Project Update: May 2017

The project is running successfully. Questionnaire enumerators were trained before going for the field survey. 17 herders were interviewed and rest of the questionnaire interview will continue. Herders were given with tarpaulin as a token of living in harmonic co-existence with snow leopard till date and they were also happy to receive the incentives. With such incentives herders feel the benefit of conserving snow leopard and they will help in conserving snow leopard by not poisoning and killing them and prevent them from poaching.

Study site during winter months

Questionnaire interview with herders

Tarpaulin received by the herders