

Project Update: July 2008

'The Lost World is now rediscovered', I think this phrase is fitted well for calling what we have done. I am pleased to let you know that our recent work was success to discover breeding site of Milky stork for more 18 years unreported in Sumatra. In addition, we have also found nest of Little egret and little cormorant in this site (possible constitute first breeding record for Sumatra).

