

Project Update: March 2018

The first fieldwork (questionnaire survey/ interview of a range of people) has just been completed. We are yet to manage the data and analyse them, but my first impression is that most of the people (local farmers, herders, staffs of community forest user groups, students and even the personnel of district forest offices) do not know 'four-horned antelope'.

