

Project Update: February 2013

Since late 2011, the Iranian Cheetah Society (ICS) has been busy to obtain the first comprehensive picture of the Asiatic cheetah's population status in Iran. We used camera traps in nine different areas from northeast near Turkmenistan border to south, not too far from Pakistan and then, near the capital of Tehran. The cheetah images enable us to understand what the situation of the cheetahs in Iran is and how they can be managed to be saved. Attached, you are receiving images of an adult male cheetah in eastern Iran which we have named him Arash. Hereby, we would like to thank you so much for your help, support and encouragement.
