

Project Update: December 2019

Scientific efforts

From July to December 2019, depending on the weather conditions we did 56 land surveys and 10 boat surveys. During the surveys we encountered 17 groups of bottlenose dolphins. The most dominant behaviour was travelling for both, land and boat surveys. Except travelling, diving was also represented.

Conservation efforts

In this period, we carried presentations on cetacean conservation in Primary School "Meksiko" in Bar where we have visited four classes which ones, we invited to join us on the beach clean ups. We organised three beach clean ups with activities for the kids like arts and crafts and joined to a big action in Sutomore organised by NGO Nasa akcija. In September 2019, we were invited in Budva by NGO MedCEM to watch a movie about marine areas which should be protected, where we showed a big interest. And we took a part in a TV emission organised by RTCG in Podgorica, where we had a chance to spread our work with an accent on cetacean conservation and its importance.
