

Project Update

Butterfly Photography Exhibition Program

As a part of the conservation awareness activities of the project, the Butterfly Photography Exhibition Program has been successfully conducted in Kirtipur, Kathmandu, Nepal. A total of 65 photos of different butterfly species were demonstrated in the programme. More than 200 visitors, including faculty members of the Tribhuvan University, students and other wildlife researchers and conservationists, actively participated in the programme. About 90% of the participants have been educated and provided comprehensive insights for the conservation outreach awareness of butterflies during the program.

In addition, the programme also received the coverage in the Media Dainik, a daily online news portal-<https://mediadainik.com/headline/1208/>

Butterfly Photography Exhibition Program Team including Dayaram Bhusal, PhD (third from the left), Associate Professor, Institute of Science and Technology, Tribhuvan University.