

Why are pangolins Endangered?

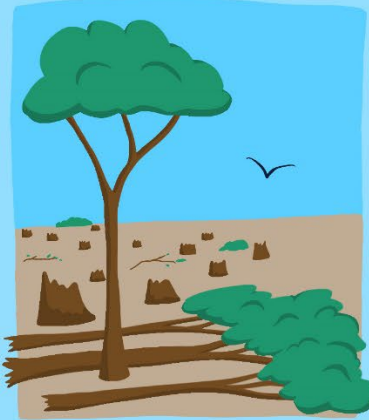

Hunting:

People kill pangolins for meat with guns, wire snares and sometimes even by hand

Illegal trade:

Scales from pangolins are used, mostly in Asia, to make ineffective 'traditional medicines'

Deforestation:

Pangolins lose their homes to forest clearance for wood and farmland, exposing them to poaching

Electric fences:

In Southern Africa, Temminck's pangolins accidentally die in electric fences in ranches

How can I save pangolins?

Protect them:

Do not kill pangolins when you see them. Stop others from killing them

Raise awareness:

Explain to your family and friends why they shouldn't kill or eat pangolins

Protect habitat:

Save pangolin habitat by not burning forest for farmland or felling trees

Report:

Report pangolin poaching and trade to the Nigerian National Park Service

Pangolins are Endangered

Let's save them from extinction

Name:

Subject:

Class:

Date:

Make we join hands
protect pangolins

PANGOLINO
www.pangolino.org

CONSERVATION LEADERSHIP PROGRAMME

The Rufford
Foundation
www.rufford.org @ruffordgrants

Pangolins na our heritage, make we try protect them

PANGOLINO
www.pangolino.org

The Rufford
Foundation
www.rufford.org @ruffordgrants

