

Project Update: December 2008

Reorientation of Coordinators

On 7th December, a half day workshop was organized for the school coordinators of six schools, at Sringeri LS School. During the workshop, the coordinators were given a set of guidelines, webs of five themes, worksheets and questionnaires, basic science equipment, etc.

They are asked to go through the worksheets and questionnaires and see where they could link with subjects like Science, Social and Environmental studies. They were also given the timeline of the work, fieldwork, mode of monitoring and assessment, meetings, exhibitions and follow up work.

The coordinators expressed strong commitments once again and felt more confident in undertaking the project work. They will complete the

In the meantime, the children of Shuvatara school, in two separate groups went on the field work to collect data on water and forestry and wildlife. They will continue this on a weekly basis and compile reports. This work is expected to help the community schools to undertake the projects in a better way.
