

Project Update: July 2022

Conserving the red list threatened fish species by raising awareness, strengthening local rules and diversifying livelihood in fishing communities in Benin

From 13th to 16th April 2022, we carried out a reconnaissance survey in the frame of our project. Below are some pictures that we took on the fields.

The Atlantic tarpon (Megalops atlanticus) caught in Lake Nokoué and reared by a fisherman in a pen installed in front of his wooden house built on stilts at Ganvié, Sô-Ava

The Principal Investigator of the project taking measurements on Megalops atlanticus

Observation of fish species from the Porto-Novo Lagoon on sale at the Djassin Tokpa market, Porto-Novo

Observation of fish species from the Lake Nokoué on sale at the Ganvié Tokpa market, Abomey-Calavi