

Project Update: March 2023

The volunteers have been hired and sampling has begun. The first batch of samples sent to the lab for molecular identification was successful. Parasites with eggs were also found on Macrobrachium samples. For your reference, I have attached a couple of photos of sampling.

1000 μm

