

Project Update: August 2017

Activities regarding establishment platform of cooperation among public, private and civil sector towards ecotourism development in NP Djerdap area is in final phase. Project team had many direct contacts with local tourism operators in remote areas where ecotourism has great potentials (along or close to the hiking trails). In this interviews we discussed possible cooperation models among NP Djerdap and stakeholders. These interviews helped us to shape better the training needs for the stakeholders.

Development of guidelines took more time than planned. Nevertheless, the final text was done in July 2017. It is planned to disseminate it during the training and through organisations such as Center for Sustainable Future Green Zone, Young Researchers of Serbia and NP Djerdap.

Project team developed agenda and training material for the training. Training is scheduled for last week of August 2017, since in that time most of relevant stakeholders will be available to attend the training.
